

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CANVASS TEAM CAPTAINS ARE SECURED

All That is Necessary is to Get People to Realize What Has Been Done in Past Year, Says Chairman Schultz—Team Organization a Strong One.

All we need do in the Chamber of Commerce membership canvass to be held next week from Tuesday to Friday is get all the people of Kingston to realize what the Chamber of Commerce has done in the past year, said Chairman Schuyler Schultz in announcing the list of captains for this canvass.

The record which has been made leaves no room for doubt about the value of the chamber to Kingston. Anyone of the three important industries brought here would be alone sufficient to make an achievement more than justifying the chamber's claim to support.

Take all of them together, add the work of the chamber for the organization of the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association, for the Rondout bridge and a number of other important accomplishments and the total is remarkable—going far beyond what we hoped for one year ago.

Kingston is moving forward. We cannot afford to stop. The things that have to be done are of as much or more importance than those already accomplished.

The Chamber of Commerce has made good. A strengthened Chamber of Commerce is necessary to maintain and increase the progress of Kingston for which the chamber has been so largely responsible.

We are getting an enthusiastic response from those whom we are asking to carry the message of the Chamber of Commerce to the people of Kingston.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler has a strong committee conducting the canvass for plural memberships.

We have also met with fine response in securing captains for the team canvass. We are confident that no other campaign in Kingston has ever been headed by a better list of captains than the following men who are now organizing teams for the chamber's canvass.

Our captains are: Charles Ramsey, Harry Tremper, John E. Maher, W. H. Niles, A. L. Harder, A. J. Burns, W. S. McDonough and W. C. Vogt.

Dr. Mark O'Meara and N. H. Fessenden have taken the responsibility for some special work and are gathering around them some workers from whose efforts we anticipate exceedingly fine returns in memberships.

All the team workers are especially requested to attend the Chamber of Commerce smoker Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. building in honor of the Barth Company. Each worker is also requested to bring at least one man with him.

The invitation to this smoker is extended to both members and non-members of the Chamber of Commerce. There will be no membership solicitation at the smoker.

SAUGERTIES ROAD ACCIDENT FATAL

Miss May Costello, 20 years old, of New York, died Wednesday afternoon in the home of Henry S. Van Orden on the Catskill-Saugerties road from injuries suffered in an automobile accident on the Palenville road between Catskill and Palenville shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night. Moses Kuller of 1536 49th street, Brooklyn, companion of Miss Costello, and driver of the car which was wrecked, told the Catskill authorities his machine was forced off the road by an automobile driven by Harold Linzey of Catskill. The car crashed through a fence and plunged over an embankment. Miss Costello was hurled from her seat with such force that her body broke one of the doors of the automobile. She was injured internally.

Mr. Linzey told Coroner William M. Rapp of Catskill the machine driven by Mr. Kuller left the road before the machines passed. Mr. Linzey said he stopped and assisted to carry the injured woman to the Van Orden residence.

After the accident Kuller gave his name as Mr. Davis and claimed he was the husband of the Costello woman, but he later changed this story. Chris Krever, an uncle of the dead woman, arrived at Catskill Wednesday to take charge of the body.

Owing to the bomb warning received, the New York customs house was closely guarded by United States Coast Guards armed with rifles with fixed bayonets. Everyone entering the building was questioned, and every package was opened. Even this young lady carrying a knitting bag could not get into the customs house until her bag had been closely scrutinized by the guard.

ITALY'S WORKERS CONTINUE RIOTS

Radicals Refuse to Give Up Seized Industrial Plants and Violence Spreads—Brescia, Sandona, Turin and Genoa Centers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. London, Sept. 23.—Rioting has broken out in the industrial district of northern Italy, following the refusal of soviet forces to evacuate seized factories, according to a dispatch from Turin today.

Italian railway guards were fired upon near Turin and one was killed and several others wounded.

Disorders have occurred at Brescia and Sandona, where the workers refused to give up industrial plants. Turin reports that the violence is spreading.

The workers' council in 34 out of 51 Italian factories have adopted resolutions condemning the terms of the settlement between the iron and steel workers and the employers, and a Turin dispatch to the Daily Express Leaders of the dissatisfied workmen announced that they would renew their fight.

The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Genoa reports that anarchists are in control of the labor situation in that city. They are refusing to hand back the Otero ship yards to the owners and to evacuate the factories that were seized during the past fortnight.

NEW LIGHTS

To Shine on Festivities at Rondout Presbyterian Church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Rondout Presbyterian Church have installed in the chapel a completely new system of indirect electric lighting. Three large softly lighting chandeliers hang from the ceiling of the chapel and another in the session room. Electric sconces are placed beneath the great rafters by the reading desk. New lights are in the class rooms, halls and preparatory for the turkey dinner and other church festivities to come a wonderful illumination has been placed in the kitchen.

Neither has the janitor been forgotten, a touch of the button lights the way through the cavernous cellars and flashes a light before each of the four new heaters. Evidently the Rondout Presbyterians are resolved upon heat and light for the coming winter.

These new lights will be in operation and for the inspection of all who attend the service at seven-fifty-five this evening. Subject "The Great Light."

ANOTHER IRISH TOWN BATTLE

Four Police and One Soldier Killed at Milltown-Malbay and Disorders Spread—Fear That Leaders May Lose Control of Police.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Dublin, Sept. 23.—Reprisal attacks by British soldiers and policemen in County Clare were reported to be spreading today, following a pitched battle between Milltown-Malbay and Lelichin in which four policemen and one soldier were killed. The number of civilians killed, if any, was not known.

Soldiers have stationed machine guns along the roads leading to Milltown-Malbay and the town could not be approached at latest reports. There is great activity by British troops throughout the whole country.

Part of Milltown-Malbay has been destroyed by fire. The inhabitants fled in panic during the night.

Twenty-six civilians have been arrested in the vicinity of Milltown-Malbay, charged with participation in the battle with soldiers and policemen.

The shooting up of Milltown-Malbay immediately after the sack of Halbrigan by policemen leads to fears that the police and military are growing out of hand on a great scale.

HIGH SCHOOL P-T A. CONFERENCE PLANS

The first meeting of the High School Parent-Teachers' Association for the year 1920-21 was held Wednesday evening at the high school and was attended by over thirty members.

President DeWitt opened the meeting and pointed out the immediate necessity for team work in making the coming P-T conference a success. He asked for volunteers among the people of Kingston having sufficient room in their homes to offer a room and breakfast to the guests who will attend the conference, Oct. 5 to 8, also for their cars for an auto ride around the reservoir one morning during their stay.

Superintendent of Schools M. J. Michael spoke on the poster exhibition to be held at the conference and explained the impracticability of the Kingston schools entering the contest at this late date, at the beginning of the school year but had no objection to those students entering the race where it will not interfere with their school work.

Prof. Lewis of the high school agreed with Supt. Michael and felt, however, that there were two art school students at the high school who could read off a poster or two without serious interference with routine work. It was decided to accept posters from such students in all the schools.

Mrs. Anderson gave a very interesting talk on the coming convention and has called a committee meeting for Wednesday of next week to complete all details.

Mrs. Leighton, chairman of hospitality committee, reported that 40 homes had so far been offered for the period Oct. 5 to 8 for the entertainment of visitors by the people of Kingston. More will be required and volunteers are called for.

Mrs. Leighton also moved the appointment of a committee to raise the assessment of $25 for its share of expenses of the conference among the members of the Association. Carried. President DeWitt was appointed.

On motion the matter of appointment of delegates to the conference was taken up and President DeWitt was authorized to appoint same.

The following were appointed: Mrs. Leighton, Mrs. Whiston, William C. DeWitt.

Minutes of previous meeting were read by secretary, Mrs. Longyear, and approved, whereupon the interesting meeting adjourned.

M'COY COMING AT SACRIFICE

Postmaster William C. DeWitt, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the Chamber of Commerce smoker tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. building, received this morning a letter from George E. McCoy, President of the Hudson Valley Federated Chambers of Commerce, confirming his acceptance of the invitation to speak at this smoker.

President McCoy writes that he is coming to Kingston at some sacrifice of his time on account of his wish to be of service to the Kingston Chamber of Commerce which is a member of the Hudson Valley Federation.

Postmaster DeWitt said, "The notable progress which the cities of the Hudson Valley are making at this time is due to the splendid spirit and earnest work of men like George E. McCoy. May their number increase."

George E. McCoy is a type of man whose broad civic and business spirit leads to the making of sacrifices and to the devoting of long hours of earnest work to the advancement of Hudson Valley.

Friday evening will be the first time that Kingston has had the pleasure of greeting the man to whose work and zeal the bringing together of 26 cities and towns from Yonkers to Troy in behalf of the progress of the Hudson Valley has been due.

FACTORY WAGES LOWER IN AUG.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Sept. 23.—The average weekly earnings of New York state factory workers was $22.71 in August. This return of earnings to very near the June level was caused by the increase in wage rates paid to railway shop men. The increase in the August average weekly earnings over the July average is 22 cents. Railway shop pay rolls showed an increase sufficient to produce an increase of 23 cents in the average weekly earnings of the factory workers in all lines of manufacturing. From this it appears that the August increase is not to be attributed to any gain in manufacturing activity. Manufacturing in general showed little change in August.

The average earnings quoted above was computed by the bureau of statistics of the state industrial commission from 1,648 manufacturers' reports covering nearly 600,000 factory workers.

Partial recoveries from the July drop in earnings occurred in some industries. Part time work caused further reductions in the earnings of workers in several industries, however. No evidence appears in the August reports that would lead to the expectation of a resumption of the upward trend of earnings that appeared from June, 1919, to June, 1920. That will depend upon developments in trade which have not yet taken form.

The most pronounced reductions in factory workers' earnings that occurred in August were in the automobile, paint and varnish, cotton goods, men's clothing, men's furnishings and canning industries. The decrease in the earnings of workers engaged in the automobile industry accompanies the slump in the activity of several plants in this state. The number of people employed in that industry was reduced 20 per cent from May to August, and those employed earned 5 per cent less in August than in July. The decreased earnings in the paint and varnish industry are attributed to the elimination of over time work. In the men's clothing, men's furnishings and cotton goods industries, the decrease in earnings is due to part time work in some plants, resulting from the lack of active demand. The decrease in earnings in the canning industry marks the passing of the height of the season.

The largest gains of the month in the earnings of workers in the various industries occurred in the glass, firearms, heating apparatus, railway supply and repair, ship building, fur goods, women's clothing and women's furnishings industries. In all cases these increases simply mark at least partial recoveries from recent declines in earnings. In the glass industry earnings were low in July because of annual shut-downs. In the firearms, heating apparatus, ship building, and women's furnishings industries, a policy of reduced forces employed full time in place of part time work for larger forces appears in some reports and accounts for the increase in earnings of the workers employed. The higher earnings in the fur goods and women's clothing industries are due to an increase in the activity of some factories in August.

Value of Cold Water.

We have read that if a man in the wrong side of fifty, getting out of cold water, from the bottom of his glass, he may continue his practice, he may find it is beneficial; that there are some who when the water is only a little above freezing get out of it and find it very beneficial, even doing the best.

To the Man who is Interested in Truck Tire Economy

CAREFUL truck owners are figuring their costs pretty closely these days—tire costs along with the others.

It is no longer "clap on a new tire and hang the expense." At least, not with the owners we come in contact with.

Service, wear, traction, cushioning qualities, construction are coming to mean more than they used to, not only to owners but to drivers of motor trucks.

And the more they mean, the more we find truck owners and operators turning to the new United States Grainless Rubber Solid Truck Tire.

The tire that overcomes splitting and base-separation—that goes on its way day after day, month after month, wearing down smoothly and uniformly without undue attention and without expense.

Handling United States Solid Truck Tires in this city is in keeping with the progressive policy of our concern.

Something new—something a little in advance of the times—is always coming out of the United States Rubber Company.

Before ordering a new truck, consult us about the kind of tires to specify.

LAST HONORS PAID FLEMING

Funeral Given Rosendale War Hero Whose Body Rested in France Last Two Years—Kingston Post Assisted.

Rosendale, Sept. 22.—One of the most impressive ceremonies in the history of Rosendale took place Wednesday morning when practically the entire village assisted by a delegation from the Kingston branch of the American Legion and former service men of the village paid their respects to the remains of Private Thomas B. Fleming, who died in France during the World War and after being buried there for nearly two years was brought to his home here and was buried in his family plot Wednesday morning.

The casket, draped in an American flag and covered with many beautiful floral tributes, was escorted by a requiem Mass was said for the repose of his soul, after which it proceeded to St. Peter's Church where the high military honors attending the burial in an alien land two years ago were repeated: this time beneath the blue skies of home while those he knew and loved looked on. The flags of the village flew at half mast and the stately September sunbeams enriched the variegated foliage of his native hills. The sweet subdued echo of the bugle sounding "taps" stole faintly through the woodland as he was again laid away.

To sleep the sleep
And the long silence keep
But still to sleep in honor.

The funeral will be held from the residence of her sister Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock from St. Patrick's Church, Whiteport. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery, Rosendale.

John J. Redmond died Wednesday night at the home of his sister, Mrs. Celia Sullivan, 29 Rogers street. Besides his sister, he is survived by a brother, Frank Redmond of Harrison, N. J. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence, and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's Church where a requiem Mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Dora Schantz, wife of Joseph Schantz, died at her home in lower Main street, Highland, Tuesday evening following a long illness of a nervous trouble. Mrs. Schantz had a great many friends who will miss her. For a number of years she had been a faithful member of the Methodist Church. Funeral services will be held at her home Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. Foster Coons, pastor of the Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in the Highland cemetery. Mrs. Schantz is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Walter Miller and Mrs. Mattie Schantz, and several sisters.

Charles Clearwater, who was well known in this city, died this morning at Middletown. For a number of years he was employed at the keg factory which the late John Pettit conducted in Jacob's Valley, and later for many years he was employed in the city street force. He was well known on account of his diminutive size and for many years he was sought by various fireman's organizations to accompany them on outings and in parades, where his size always attracted attention. He was a faithful worker and had many friends. He was about 65 years old and unmarried. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Jacob Marks died at his home, 86 John street, this morning at 7 o'clock after a sickness of several months. Mr. Marks was more of an Ulster county man than many people realized, for he was born in Saugerties in 1856. He later went to Franklin, Pa., returning to this county and to Kingston in 1898 and buying out the grocery business of Smith Eckert on North Front street. Three years later Mr. Marks bought the property on North Front street where he has since been so successfully engaged in business until this past summer, when because of failing health he retired and sold the business to Samuel Feldman. Though of quiet disposition, Mr. Marks' geniality and interest in his fellow man won him a host of friends who sincerely admired him for his honesty and upright character, his judgment and fair-mindedness. His countless unobtrusive kindnesses were the result of his unobtrusive generosity. Mr. Marks was a Mason, being a member of Myrtle Lodge, No. 216, of Yonkers county, Franklin, Pa., and of Mount Hermon Chapter, No. 75, R. A. M., of this city, and also of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of Kingston. Always busy and actively interested in whatever was for the good and the prosperity of Kingston, Mr. Marks was furthermore an honored member of the Chapter of Commandery Temple Emanuel, of which Mr. Marks was an active member. He was a staunch and devoted supporter thirty-six years ago. Mr. Marks married Miss Martha Rosendale of New York city, the young couple making their home in Franklin, Pa. When they came to Kingston on two little daughters, Naomi and Rosetta came with them, and it was a hard blow to Mr. Marks, who was a devoted father and husband. His little Naomi died of scarlet fever shortly after their coming to Kingston. Mr. Marks is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Rosendale, his daughter, Rosetta, wife of Harry Levy of New York city, and the following sisters and

MILLERAND NEW FRENCH PRESIDENT

Radical Success Discharged—Little Opposition Develops in National Assembly Where He Received 695 Votes.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Verailles, Sept. 22.—Premier Alexander Millerand, a Socialist, was today elected president of France by the National Assembly.

He succeeded President Doumergue, who resigned on account of ill health, after holding office for eight months. M. Millerand received 695 votes.

M. Millerand's election to the presidency was assured when the chamber of deputies and the senate, in joint session, designated him as their official candidate. Opponents of the premier, whose antagonism arose chiefly from M. Millerand's suggestion that the constitution be revised to give the chief executive more power, failed to rally effective strength.

The voting began at 2:45 o'clock. One hour was allotted to balloting. The results of the balloting stood:

M. Millerand, 695; M. Delory, 69; M. Jonart, 3; M. Pams, 3; M. Bourgeois, 3; M. Peret, 2; M. Doumergue, 1; M. Poincaré, 1.

There were twenty absentees.

M. Millerand was acclaimed elected by acclamation.

M. Delory, himself a Socialist, was supported by the radical Socialist faction.

Midshipman at Annapolis.
One of the recent admissions to the Naval Academy at Annapolis as midshipman of the fourth class, who having successfully passed his examinations has been "sworn in," is Joseph Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Farrell of Spa Creek, Eastport, Maryland, and brother of Assistant Professor William E. Farrell of the mechanical engineering department, Naval Academy, who was a former midshipman. Young Farrell was a student of the Annapolis High School before entering one of the local preparatory schools for the Naval Academy. He is a nephew of Mrs. Andrew J. Murphy of Stuyvesant street.

His Annual Pilgrimage.
Editor Ralph LeFevre, historian, genealogist, educator and for more than 50 years publisher of the New Paltz Independent, was a welcome caller at The Freeman office Wednesday afternoon. Mr. LeFevre was on his way home from a week's stay at Lake Minnetonka, and he came by way of Kingston in order to make his annual pilgrimage to inspect the sacred relic, the Skillypottery, which he found in about the same condition as when he taught school in Port Ewen and boarded at the home of Dr. Josiah Hasbrouck, Sr., more than half a century ago.

A $3,000,000 State Hospital.
A bill was introduced in the legislature at Albany Wednesday by Senator Henry M. Sage of Albany and in the assembly by Assemblyman H. Edmund Machold of Jefferson to provide for the construction of a 1,000-bed hospital for the care and treatment of the state's world war veterans who have become mentally disabled. A site suggested in the bill for the proposed hospital is Beekman, Dutchess county.

At the Bridge Site.
Work is progressing slowly at the Rondout creek bridge site. Work of excavating until rock is struck is still under way. The concrete to be poured for the piers has to rest on rock foundation. On the Strand the excavation is down about eight feet and solid rocks has not been struck yet. The only concrete poured as yet was a portion of the sidewalk on which the cornerstone was laid.

Elmsford St. Sunday School.
Rally day will be observed by the Elmsford Street Sunday school on Sunday at 11:45. Special music by the orchestra and a ten minute address by Dr. Seeley. Every teacher and scholar will be expected, so that autumn work may start with a snap.

Reveals Sea's Bottom.
A two-inch section of sea bottom, with its tiny animal and plant life, magnified 15,000 times, has been reproduced in glass and wax at the American Museum of Natural History at New York.

It is called the Bryozoa group, taking its name from the minute sea animals popularly called sea mats and sea mosses, that it depicts.

Their shells are incrust on seaweeds, pebbles and the shells of larger animals, and are said to be extremely beautiful in their intricate form and coloring. The "plumed worm," with its gay colors and other strange microscopic creatures, of which the average person seldom dreams, complete the group.

Cord of Thanks.
We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the Kingston Branch of the American Legion, the service men of Rosendale, the friends, neighbors and townspeople who by their acts of service, consideration, moral tributes and other expressions of sympathy made the reception from France and rebury in American soil of the body of Private Thomas B. Fleming an occasion typifying America's grateful remembrance of the honored dead, and contributed immeasurably toward the consolation of his bereaved family.

STRANGE TO WESTERN EYES

Habits and Customs of "Hermit Kingdom" of Korea Hard for Travelers to Understand.

Out into the Yellow sea and the Eastern sea jets a peninsula of more than 41,000 square miles. It is an extension of Manchuria, and for centuries was under the suzerainty of China.

In old times the peninsula is called Korea. For years it was known as "The Hermit Kingdom." For after the China-Japanese war the land became an independent kingdom, although even then Japan claimed jurisdiction over the country. But Korea enjoyed her freedom only a short time as an independent nation.

It was on August 28, 1910, that Japan formally annexed Korea as an integral part of the kingdom. The old name was changed to Chosen. In Japanese this name is divided into two syllables—"Choo-Son." This means "The Land of the Morning Calm."

Perhaps no other name would better suit the land which was once called the Hermit Kingdom, for its people are indeed very calm. So calm have they been considered by Japan that it is generally known there was some opposition to the annexation of the kingdom, and that a republic was formed and a president elected. The president, it is said, was captured by the Japanese.

Many are the strange customs of this old little land. At one time the king ordered all men to wear broad-brimmed hats made of a material so brittle the men couldn't "set their heads together" without cracking their hats. And so, the story runs, conspiracy was prevented.

But the misapprehension of Chosen are not made of brittle material. They are painstakingly born out of wood, and are set up along the highways, carved with Chinese characters, which give the traveler the information he requires for a safe journey.

To the eyes of many a western traveler these altars look more like images intended to frighten than anything to inform. Of course, the particular deities that should be placated in each spot is properly placated by the priests. And so these Chinese altars serve the double purpose of informing human travelers and warning off those demons who might trouble the highway. — Temple Magazine in Columbia Dispatch.

China's Needs Are Great.
Society Chronicle writes in the World's Work:

China needs sanitation. Railroads are the world's sanitation and China's need. But for the lack of railroads, China would not be the most powerful nation on earth—Sanitation and purity. And the fact that her railroads are short while those of other countries are long makes her a prey to those tentacles of trade against which she is helpless. China has today only about 6,500 miles of railroad; she needs 100,000. She who built the rambling walls has still only foot-paths. She needs 100,000 miles of highway. Her canals, which a thousand years ago kept the country open to trade and partially free from famine have fallen into disrepair. She needs telegraphs, telephones, wireless. If only the money she borrowed even into each enterprise China would repay the world a thousand fold.

Poison Gas for Wholes.
A campaign against the Belgians of white shale was recently inaugurated from Doungreux to Charentais, in Brittany, by the French chronograph society, in which acts and poems were used.

The Belgians, past of the Balkans, is generally known white in color, from native in native skin and complexion among the whites. The average length of the adult male is about 5 ft. 10 in.

To hunt down the white whale a net 1,500 yards long, was set up at Doungreux, while another was placed in a suitable position by the Admiralty at Charentais. Furthermore, the ship part of the service were used 4000 tons of poison gas against the Belgians.

"Thine Is the Glory"

This painting, which hangs in National Headquarters of the American Red Cross, Washington, depicts the heroism of American fighting men to American womanhood as mobilized for service in the World War by this organization. It is the collaborative scientific and art creation of Major Joseph Gray Mitchell, late of the General Staff, U. S. A., and F. Luis Mora, of the New York School of Art. The face of the central figure is a composite of the features of a thousand Red Cross workers selected for the purpose.

Nominee's Former Pastor Still Boosting Man Who Will Be Leader and Not Dictator.

FINDS IN SENATOR NO TRACE OF RADICALISM

Declares Justice, Kindness and Mercy Stand Out as Foremost Characteristics of Republican Candidate.

Included among the Minnesota Republicans working faithfully and industriously in behalf of Senator Harding, is Rev. D. R. Martin, of Winnebago, Minn., formerly pastor of the Marion, Ohio, Baptist Church and Senator Harding's pastor. The other day Rev. Martin was asked just why he is so enthusiastic about Senator Harding, and this is what he said:

"It is a peculiar pleasure for me to continue the work which I began twenty-five years ago. It was my privilege to stand on the side lines and boost for Senator Harding when he received his first nomination for public office. When he was a candidate for the senate I was visiting in Ohio and had the pleasure of boosting for him. It is, therefore, a peculiar pleasure to join with this bunch of Minnesota boosters in seeking to put Senator Harding over, in the greatest gift within the power of the people. Being a clergyman, I have been constantly asked by my friends at the college commencement in Michigan, in Chicago and in Minnesota why I am such a persistent booster for Mr. Harding, and I have been asked to state in this presence my reasons for doing so. These are three:

"The first pertains to certain elements of his character. I will give you these as I received them while I was pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, of which Mr. Harding is a member. I asked him and a group of other men to make some Sunday evening addresses. I do not remember much that Senator Harding said at that time, but I do remember very distinctly the words with which he closed his address and which have stood all these years as outstanding elements of his character to me. He closed the address by a quotation from the prophets, in which he said, 'And what doth the Lord thy God require of thee but to do justice and love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' Justice, mercy, kindness and humility have in all these years stood as foremost characteristics of Mr. Harding's life—characteristics which are always attractive and make a man's life worth while.

"The second reason is because I believe that there is focused in him the best traditions, ideals and purposes of the great Republican party and so peculiarly fit him to be their leader in this great crisis of the nation's life. I use the word 'leader' advisedly, for it is leadership that we are needing and not arbitrary, dictatorial, autocratic rule. We have had enough of that. If a boss is desired there would be no need for making any change, for the boss that we have is the bossiest.

"The third reason is because I find in him no trace of radicalism. To me radicalism is the greatest danger that we have to face. Our interests are too diverse to admit of anything of that character. We have our agricultural group with its interests. We have our financial interests. We have our labor group with its interests. We have our great group known as the public, that has always been made the 'goat' with its interests. All of these are of vital interest to the common weal and I believe that Senator Harding is broad enough and sympathetic enough so that the interests of each will be blended in the common interest of all, and all will be perfectly safe under his leadership."

"READ THAT, MR. COX" AND MR. COX DID READ.

A little incident connected with candidate Cox's recent campaign visit to New York indicates that the Democratic nominee is striving to forget certain indiscreet editorials which appeared in the newspapers, the Nation News, before the owner of the paper applied to the President.

As the Democratic nominee was leaving the Hotel Commodore after finishing a commercial traveler forced his way through the throng of curious spectators and thrust into Mr. Cox's hand an editorial clipping which proved to be his denunciation of the commercial travelers of the United States. "Read that, Mr. Cox," commanded the traveling man. The Democratic candidate unfolded the frayed column of newspaper matter, glanced at the heading, scanned the first paragraph, glanced at the rest and then, turning to the editor and addressing him, said: "I have read that, but I don't intend to read it."

One of Mr. Cox's newspapermen caught the story of the traveling man's "denunciation" and asked: "What was the name of the man who gave you that?" "Such Head (22) Tribune."

WHY ISN'T THE CINQUEFOIL HERE?

By Raymond H. Torrey.

Why is a plant like the three-toothed cinquefoil, Potentilla tridentata, typical of most high summits in New England and the Adirondacks, not found on the tops of the Catskills, more than 4,000 feet above the tide mark? Slide, 4,204; Hunter, 4,925 and Cornell, 3,900, are as high or higher than Camel's Hump, for instance, in the Green Mountains, where the glossy little plant is plentiful. But it is not found on them. Yet a considerable patch grows on Mount Beacon, forty miles south and only 1,640 feet high.

This problem was one of many interesting ones discussed by members of the Torrey Botanical Club on an excursion to Mount Hunter, led by Prof. B. T. Butler of the department of botany and geology at the College of the City of New York. Prof. Butler was of opinion that the solution might be found in the recently developed science of ecology, which treats of the relation of plants to their environment, soil, climate, and other conditions.

Mount Beacon, like Camel's Hump and Mount Washington, is a mass of granite-gneiss, a plutonic magma underneath the crust of the earth. Marcy and Whiteface, where the glossy cinquefoil is so plentiful, is another intrusive mass, of a rock known as anorthosite. Both granites and anorthosites are rich in potash feldspars.

The Catskills, however, are mountains of a quite different origin. They are wholly sedimentary, formed of a vast succession of sandstone and conglomerates, the result of the erosion of the mighty, ancient Taconic range, now worn down to its roots, east of the Hudson River. The chemical constituents of the rocks are very different. This might account for the absence of the sturdy little cinquefoil. It would be a question of suitable soil food—perhaps also, if we concede something more than a mere vegetative existence to the plant, a matter of its psychology.

Potentilla tridentata came south a hundred thousand years ago, pursued by the advancing front of the continental glacier and was in the rear guard, a sort of Marshall Ney of flowering plants of the retreat. When the ice receded it was one of the first to follow back, and when the climate warmed too much to suit it, it scorned the ease and comfort of the meadows below and climbed to the highest summits it could find.

Mount Beacon was one, and the writer has been informed that it grows on Wachusett in Massachusetts, only 2,000 feet high. But the Catskills, in spite of twice that height, did not suit it. It may have lingered there for a while, but evidently the sandstone and conglomerate did not agree with its digestion, and if it ever grew on these summits it has disappeared there now.

In spite of their considerable heights the Catskill summits have not botanically the Alpine character that might be expected. There are some plants on Slide and Hunter which are found at lower altitudes further north: like the Clintonia, Goldthread, mountain ash, spruces and firs, and some sedges and asters, but these are not necessarily Alpine species. There are none of the beautiful heaths, like the Lapland rose bay; the alpine azalea, the pale laurel, the mountain heaths, Phyllodoce, or even Labrador tea, such as beautify the Alpine Garden on Mount Washington or in lesser number of species, the somewhat lower altitudes of Marcy and Whiteface in the Adirondacks.

Numerous springs, gushing between the sandstone and conglomerate layers, high up on Hunter, offered good collecting grounds for the enthusiasts on mooses in the party. A. T. Beals a New York photographer, and Dr. Herman Platt, principal of a Manhattan school. The most noticeable plant feature of the top of Hunter is a great number of large yellow birches, mostly killed by fire or dead of old age. White and black spruce is common above the 3,500-foot level, and hemlock and spruce are frequent.

WAR CHAPLAIN TO PREACH HERE

The Rev. Samuel G. Trexler, D. D., president of the Lutheran Synod of New York and New England, will make an official visit to the Church of the Redeemer, this city, on Sunday, preaching at the morning service.

Dr. Trexler has the honor of being the first salaried president of the synod. He is a pioneer in church work. Coming directly from the seminary in Brooklyn he conducted services in a vacant corner school at Greenpoint, preaching to two women and three children. Later the handsome Church of the Messiah was built, and the congregation grew to 600 communicants and 700 Bible school pupils in 13 years of labor.

In 1912 he was called by the synod to take up the work of students' pastor at the universities of New York and the New England states. Later he became pastor of a large church in Buffalo.

Covers were laid for the following: Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mott, Miss Hazel Mott, Mrs. Leslie Mott, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Goodrich, Mrs. Grace Freer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freer, Mr. and Mrs. William McLain. BUSINESS PICKS UP ON WEST SHORE

Business is booming on the West Shore Railroad, according to men employed on that road. Freight is moving rapidly and the congestion that has existed in the north yard near this city is gradually being untangled, loaded cars that have been there for months being moved every day. The embargoes that have been existing on freight to the east and west have been removed and for the first time in a year freights are being sent from this city to New England and received from that section. Freight from Buffalo and the west are coming right along now. It is said. Things are humming at the repair shops in the north yard where 200 men are employed in putting every freight car that it is possible to be made useful in shape. The increase in passenger rates to New York does not seem to have caused fault finding to any extent, as people riding to the metropolis step up to the ticket window and pay the increased fare without kicking.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Dangerous Hours" at "Kremer."

"The Way Trail" at Auditorium.

Thomas H. Ince has taken as the underlying theme of his latest production, "Dangerous Hours," at Kremer's tonight, the current radical unrest. The film is declared to be in no respect a preaching, but a spectacular, thrilling story with a romance interwoven developed along large scale lines. Tomorrow and Saturday Marguerite Clark in "A Girl Named Mary."

"The One Way Trail" at the Auditorium tonight. Tomorrow, Beale love in "Cupid Forecloses."

It has been remarked repeatedly that notwithstanding the exasperations of his initiation, Jones is the agent of the bandmaster of the generation. He exerts the meaningful and wholly theatrical mannerisms which are affected by so many other leaders for the sole purpose of attracting attention and eliciting comment. Jones leads with an easy grace that seems to be a part of the music he is conducting, yet with a masterful precision which absolutely controls the wonderful body of musicians banded together in his name. The programs presented by Jones and his band always contain something new, and that to be offered when they appear here on Saturday afternoon at the Kingston Opera House will probably be no exception.

Started as Mandrake at Three. A Kansas man arranged in a law suit the other day notified that he was a bandmaster by occupation and that he had followed it since he was three years of age.

No Shame in Admiring Wrong. A man should never be ashamed to say he has been in the wrong, which is not saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.

ARABIAN EMPIRE NOT LIKELY

As Travelers Point Out, System and Organization Are Foreign to the Semite Mind.

"History is against the probability of the creation of an Arabian empire. The Semite mind does not lean toward system or organization," said Col. Thomas E. Lawrence recently. "The Semites are represented by very little art, architecture, philosophy. But we find an amazing fertility among the Semites in the creation of creeds and religions. Three of these creeds—Judaism, Christianity and Mohammedanism—have become great world movements. The broken fragments of countless other religions which have failed are found today on the fringes of the desert.

"The desert seems to produce only one idea—the universality of God. We, who have gone out to discover the meaning of the desert have found only emptiness—nothing but sand, wind, soil and empty space. The Bedouins leave behind them every extraneous comfort and go to live in the desert, in the very arms of starvation, that they may be free. The desert exacts a price for its secret. It makes the Bedouin entirely useless to their fellow men. There has never been a Bedouin prophet. On the other hand, there has never been a Semite prophet who has not, before preaching his message, gone into the desert and caught from the desert dwellers a reflection of their belief. The idea of the absolute worthlessness of the present world is a pure desert conception, at the root of every Semite religion, which must be filtered through the screen of a pronounced prophet before it can be accepted by a settled people.—Asia Magazine.

ANIMAL LIFE AT ITS WORST

Woe-Begone Specimens of Dogs, Pigs, and Horses in the Cuban Province of Pinar del Rio.

There are more dogs than any other kind of animal life in Pinar del Rio, the westernmost province of Cuba, and chickens, pigs, ponies and goats rank next in the order named. Dogs may be seen everywhere, but they are lazy and indifferent. Each shack-hold has a few chickens, none of which would have the shade of a chance in a poultry show, but might hold their own at a cooking main.

There are many pigs to be seen, but they are so thin and weakened that the much-abused razor-back looks like a prosperous porker, says the National Geographic Magazine. Each pig is anchored fast to a peg in the ground, tethered to a rope. Knowing that if the rope were passed only about the pig's neck he could wiggle free, the native passes it around the pig in the front of one shoulder and behind the opposite leg, and then draws it tight enough to prevent the pig from backing out of it or creeping through.

The horses one sees are between the Texas and the Shetland pony in size, and so thin that one wonders if they can make a shadow. Milch goats, which are the cows of Pinar del Rio, seem to be the one class of animal able to look fat and sleek.

Miss Agnes Hart Wilson, daughter of the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. Wilson, has announced herself as a candidate for congress from the Fifteenth Pennsylvania district, which her father represented for five years before he became a member of President Wilson's cabinet. Miss Wilson, who is the secretary's eldest daughter, has always been interested in civic matters. She was her father's secretary during his congressional term and also when he was president of the United Mine Workers' organization.

But for the work of American Red Cross agents in all regions of Poland during the last twelve months, hundreds of thousands of people in that tragic country today would be under the sod, victims of hunger, disease and exposure. The job in Poland is one of tremendous proportions and cannot be abandoned for many months to come. Here is a typical scene: A Red Cross worker "at the throttle" of a soup kitchen where hundreds of undernourished women and children are fed daily.

A movement to stop the alleged profiteering of restaurants has been started by Bostonians. An organization called the Bring-Your-Lunch-From-Home Club has been formulated by residents of that city. One of the chief workers of the club is A. J. Peters, mayor of Boston. Since the birth of the organization Mayor Peters daily brings his lunch from home to the city hall and enjoys his sandwiches and milk very much as the photo shows.

COW RAFFLE IN NORTH RONDOUT

Led To An Investigation by Police and Also Board of Health—Raffle
Cox Ordered Killed—Raffle Money Was Returned and Procession Dropped.

A cow raffle in North Rondout led to action of the police department and the board of health Wednesday afternoon and as a result the cow was killed and the raffle money returned to the purchasers of the tickets.

It developed from the investigation that Mrs. Gottlieb Kryeski of Hooker street had bought a cow for $12 and this Friday she decided to raffle the animal off and was selling tickets at 25 cents each. The action of the authorities had prevented the pleasure of the one holding the lucky ticket acquiring the prize.

It was reported to the health board that the cow was tubercular and the board directed Dr. Huhne to make an examination of the animal which led to its being ordered killed which was done.

The matter of the raffle also attracted the attention of the police department and Sergeant Hanley paid a visit to Hooker street that afternoon Mrs. Kryeski informed him she had returned the money to those who had purchased tickets, and as the cow had been killed, no further action was taken by the authorities.
Mrs. Kryeski was also informed that raffles were against the law, and if she held another she was liable to be arrested.

Our Growing Population.
Among the recent births reported to the board of health are:

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Donovan of 607 Delaware avenue, a daughter, Helen Anne.
Mr. and Mrs. James H. Van De-mark, 148 Henry street, a daughter, Ruth Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mayone of 24
Corbett street, a daughter, Marie.

Stockings Over Shoes.
Our neighbor's daughter was to be married. Mother went over at the last moment to see her and to arrange her veil. Just as she was about to step through the folding doors into the room where the ceremony was to be performed mother noticed her feet.
She had drawn on a pair of white stockings over her slippers and they were still on! She was quickly drawn back and there was a scramble to pull them off and start in again.—Exchange.

Lightning Is Fast.
A flash of lightning lights up the ground for one-millionth of a second, yet it seems to last much longer. What happens is that the impression remains in the eye of the retina for about one-eighth of a second, or 124,000 times longer than the flash lasts.

Claimed the Prize.
Quests having been there, the children were up later than usual and unusually excited. Anny couldn't make them go to sleep; she had heard their prayers, told them stories, and they were wider awake than ever. "The first one of you to go to sleep shall have an orange," she told them. Dead silence followed. Presently Annie called: "Anny, give me my orange; I'm the first one asleep. My dear woke up again."

Women and Compromise.
Women do not readily compromise;
what they think and what they want;
they think and want with crystalline sharpness. In the home they seem to compromise, but that is not so; they give in. And when they have given in they return to the charge, give in again if they must, and try again, and eventually get what they want from a man who has grown sick of the subject.—W. L. George, in Harper's Magazine.

Daily Thought.
The only competition worthy of a wily man is with himself.—Mrs. Jam-son.

Cuticura Healed Dandruff and Burning Itching Pimples

"I contracted dandruff due to wearing a cap all the time. I also had pimples and blackheads on my forehead and cheeks. There were eruptions on my scalp, and the dandruff scalded off, and my hair was falling out. The pimples were hard, large and red, and some formed and other scalded over. They burned and itched and I scratched them, and my face was disfigured."

"After months of suffering I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I felt relieved after using them and I purchased more, and in about three months I was completely healed." (Signed) William E. Egan, 257 Leonard St., Brooklyn, N. Y., March 15, 1920.

Premier Alexandre Millerand has agreed to accept the candidacy for the presidency of France, according to cable dispatches. Fundamental changes in the French form of government are expected if he is elected.
Reports further state that he has agreed to accept the candidacy on a radical extension of the constitution, so as to extend executive powers to the president in such a fashion that the president will be the titular head of both the internal and external affairs of France.

Would Be Shown.

One day while out in the yard playing with his own little boy brother the little and came to feeling badly about it. I told him I was sorry, too. He thought about it a while and then he said: "My, but my pocket will be forever wringed up tight."—Ex-

Let Them Tell It.

The people don't like it quite so much as we do. It's better for the one than for the other. In view of the enormous cash that just poured in on our side from all the nations—

Whisky Called "Water of Life."

The art of distilling liquors is first mentioned by Aristotle, an Arabian physician was fixed in the tenth century. "Whisky," is probably derived from the Gaelic word "uisge beatha," which means "water of life." The name was introduced to America and then to England. It was known and used in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries both in Ireland and Scotland.

And Tinkling.

"Waydown," said Ted Tinkling, "has to be cracked up, but it's always been a self-server."

No Need to Laugh.

A private with the A. E. F. got thorough, and not having a time in his pocket decided the only way he could get some was to steal. He so prevented to take to the first tax. Two French girls ran out, picked him up and started toward the entrance. Unfortunately one of the girls had secretly slipped him and he slipped.
The instant girls left him going to the ground.

But the Corp Is Better.

We who were with him with one corp, for two French girls may be a long time getting to the bottom. But it's not so bad as it seems.
